Investigation of the New Haven Line's Tragedy Is Under Way

DEATH LIST REACHES 21

Seventeen Badly Injured in the Hospitals—Wreckage Cleared Up Contrary to Orders.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)
New Haven, Conn., Sept. 3.—The death list in the Wallingford wreck stood at 21 this morning and the hospital list at 17. The railroad employees who played the leading parts in the New Haven line's latest tragedy were under detention by the coroner's order. Meanwhile the machinery for the usual county, state and federal investigations was in motion.

Coroner Mix and Chief of Engineers Elwell of the state of public service commission resumed this morning the work which they began yesterday jointly.

The interstate commerce commission's investigators on their arrival yesterday found practically no sign of a wreck along the New Haven right of way. Notwithstanding the telegrams ordering the wreckage to be left untouched, the railroad men cleaned up the roadbed after the crash. The two rear Pullmans of the Bar Harbor's express were nearly all the loss of life caused by the crash. All of this wreckage that could be burned, was piled in a dozen or more bonfires kindled close to the right of way by the wrecking gangs last night. The damaged locomotive was hauled away with the remains of the third Pullman.

The revised list of dead as compiled by the coroner today, was as follows: Altschul, Wm. E., Norfolk, Va. Armstrong, Margaret, Washington, D. C.

Biddle, Harriett, Torresdale, Pa. Bullitt, Marie L., Philadelphia. Davis, Emilie Kenney, Philadelphia.

Fox, Samuel, Crozier, Philadelphia. Green, Albert N. Y. Hotchkiss, Royal A., New Haven. Hotchkiss, Philo, his brother. Izani, Harry, New York.

Koga, George T., New York. Marvin, Dr. James B., Louisville, Kentucky.

Marvin, Mrs. James B., Louisville, Kentucky.

Marvin, Martha H., (daughter) Louisville, Ky.

Martin, Howard F., Bryn Mawr, Pa. Martin, Mrs. Howard F., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

McQuillan, Daniel Jr., Overbrook, Penn.

Rutter, Frank P., Scranton, Pa. Rutter, Mrs. Frank P., Scranton, Penn.

Yahn, Robert M., Philadelphia.

Mary Jane, 55 years old, family name not yet ascertained.

The second session of the coroner's inquiry began shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. August B. Miller, engineer of the White Mountain express, was called to tell more of the circumstances under which his train crashed into the standing Bar Harbor flyer. Elbert A. Robertson, his fireman; Bruce B. Adams, conductor of the Bar Harbor train and Charles Henry Murray, the flagman sent back to prevent a rear end collision, all were ordered to submit to long cross-examination. The hearing was held in camera in the office of the railroad's general manager and no intimidation as to the testimony was made public except briefly through the railroad's press agent. As yesterday the railroad insisted that the testimony shows plainly that the equipment, appliances and signals of the railroad were in first class condition.

Murray, the flagman, according to his statement, was sent back to flag the following train when the Bar Harbor came to a stop in front of the red bull's eye signal 23. Murray was recalled by a blast from the locomotive and Conductor Adams stopped the train to wait for him after it had cleared the danger signal by perhaps forty feet.

Running back through the heavy fog, Murray heard the on-coming White Mountain express and placed two torpedoes on the rail. The red light of the danger signal and the rear end of the standing train took form in the mist before the eyes of Engineer Miller of the White Mountain express at the same moment he ran over the torpedoes. Miller was then 450 feet from the standing train and was running forty miles an hour. He whipped on the emergency brake but a train of this heavy character at 45 miles an hour requires at least 1,500 feet to stop.

The body of Miss Marvin of Louisville on which was found much jewelry, was identified during the night. A son-in-law of Dr. Marvin, Blakemore, Wheeler of Atlantic City, sent word that the bodies of the doctor, his wife and daughter should be shipped to Louisville at once. A fellow passenger in the Marvin party was Harry Arviner of New York. He is at the hospital with a broken arm.

The hospital reports of the seven injured were encouraging this morning except in the case of Miss Jeanne Annette of Bayonne, N. J., who was on the operating table this morning. It is believed her spine is fractured. The body of the woman who whispered her name as Mary Jane, is still at the New Haven hospital. Letters which it is thought belonged to her have been found to belong to others and there is no means of identifying the body.

SOCIETY WOMAN IS CHARGED WITH USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)

Cleveland, Sept. 3.—Arrested at her home at midnight and brought to Cleveland early this morning Mrs. Margaret A. Carter, Elria, O. society woman, is confined in the county jail charged by federal authorities with using the mails to defraud. It is alleged that she wrote Miss Lillian Huntington, daughter of W. R. Huntington, retired business man and well known as Grea Lake's yachtman, asking for $3,000 under pain of having her fiancée, a young Cleveland clubman, taken from her. In the letter she is alleged to have represented herself as a young woman Miss Huntington's fiancée had promised to marry, suggesting that if the Elria society girl wanted the young man she must pay the stipulated sum or the write will take him herself.

Miss Huntington is a granddaughter of John Huntington, wealthy Cleveland, who on his death, left $1,000,000 for an art museum now being constructed. Mrs. Carter is 50 and the wife of a retired tobacco manufacturer. She has moved in the best circles in Elria and maintains that her innocence will be proven when the matter is explained.

Miss Huntington figured in the news two years ago. While a student at Briarcliff school, New York she accompanied her mother on a trip to Asheville, N. C. There she met Dwight Dawley, son of a furniture manufacturer of Wheeling, W. Va. They eloped. Dawley was 21 and Miss Huntington was 16.

Later Mrs. Huntington took her daughter to Elria and subsequently a divorce was obtained. Miss Huntington being restored to her maiden name.

The letter addressed to Miss Huntington was signed "Miss Rose." Assistant United States District Attorney Alburey says that she received another and more threatening letter over the same signature. He added:

"Miss Huntington is not the only persons thus approached. Over a dozen persons in Elria, Cleveland and other northern Ohio towns have received threatening letters with the intent of extorting money. The handwriting in all these cases agrees."

Mrs. Carter's hearing was to be before United States Commissioner Edward C. Daoust this afternoon. Postoffice inspectors Cochran and Owen worked in Elria several weeks gathering the information that led to her arrest.

"I'll see you in Coaticook, boys," said Thaw, waving his hand to the reporters.

Judge Hutchinson's voice trembled as he read the decision, which in effect started Stanford White's lawyer on the road back to Matteawan. The judge's hands shook so he could hardly hold the parchment. Thaw did not take his eyes off the reader. In his right hand Thaw held limply two pennants of the fair, which a little girl had thrust on him.

There were forty persons in the judge's chamber. The court's reading was slow and while there were no indications that he would sustain the writ it was not until the last few paragraphs that this became positive.

The court held briefly, that Thaw was being confined illegally and that John Boudreau, chief of police of Coaticook, the petitioner, had a right to demand the prisoner's release.

DECISION AGAINST PRISONER

Harry K. Thaw Will be Turned Out of the Sherbrooke Jail

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS

Await Him and He Will Be Deported—Thaw's Mother Expected to Arrive Today.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)

Sherbrooke, Sept. 3.—Harry K. Thaw today lost his fight to defy deportation by remaining in the Sherbrooke jail.

Judge Hutchinson this afternoon sustained a writ of habeas corpus calling for his release.

Thaw remained dazed for possibly three minutes. The crowd began to leave the judge's chamber in silence. Thaw followed, aimlessly. As he crossed the threshold, E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, tapped him on the shoulder and placed him officially under arrest as an undesirable alien. The crowd then surged from the building and it was announced that Thaw would be taken immediately to Coaticook for a hearing.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 3.—Lawyers working for and against the deportation and return to Matteawan of Harry K. Thaw, were on the alert today, mindful of the fact that Superior Judge Hutchinson might at any time hand down his decision on the habeas corpus writ, arguments of which he heard yesterday.

Although the court did not say definitely when he would render judgment there were those who believed he would announce his findings today. Others thought that it might be Thursday or Friday.

The court's ruling will be rendered in writing, and he agreed to summon counsel to chambers in ample time for its delivery. If the writ is sustained, Thaw will be ejected from the Sherbrooke jail and arrested by immigration officers for deportation.

N. K. LaFlamme of Montreal, one of the most eminent criminal lawyers in the Dominion, came here today to reinforce the Thaw lawyers. He was retained in the case some time ago, but up till now has taken no active part in the fight.

It was reported today that Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of the fugitive would soon arrive in Sherbrooke to arrange with counsel for their fees and expenses. Some of the Thaw lawyers have again expressed dissatisfaction over the fact that no responsible head of the family has remained on the scene and that while money was talked of, no large amounts have been in evidence.

A by-product of Thaw's escape, the case of "Gentleman Roger" Thompson, chauffeur of the car that whirled Thaw away from Matteawan was set for trial before Magistrate Mulvena today. Thompson was held in $500 bail last week on the double charge of entering the Dominion by stealth and of assisting Thaw, an undesirable, to cross the border. He is subject to a fine of $500 and three months in jail.

Thompson's case was called at 10:30 and with the consent of both sides was put over for a week. His bail was continued.

Thaw's lawyers seemed stunned. Special officers of the immigration department jostled them in the corridors.

"I'll see you in Coaticook, boys," said Thaw, waving his hand to the reporters.

Judge Hutchinson's voice trembled as he read the decision, which in effect started Stanford White's lawyer on the road back to Matteawan. The judge's hands shook so he could hardly hold the parchment. Thaw did not take his eyes off the reader. ## WOULD INTRODUCE COMPULSORY VOTING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)

Columbus, O.—General apathy on voting which prevailed in Columbus and elsewhere in Ohio yesterday will be the basis of a new plan which has in mind. He purposes to introduce compulsory voting at elections in Ohio and if possible will get through a measure to that end at the special session of the general assembly next winter.

The plan of the governor is to make voter's failure to exercise his franchise constitute a crime punishable by fine or revocation of the right to franchise. The details of the proposal have not yet been worked out.

The governor also has in mind a proposal to permit absent voters to cast their ballots by affidavit when they are unable to vote without inconvenience of returning to their home towns.

R. C. BIGBEE TO HEAD THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

City Auditor William Wulphoop Nominated on Democratic Ticket Over Joseph Newnham By 188—No Contest on Either Ticket for Several of the Offices—Returns in Early and Result Was Known by 9 O'clock.

In a race for mayoralty honors which waxed warm at the last minute, F. Marion Swartz won the nomination on the Democratic ticket over William H. Broome, his only close competitor. Swartz' plurality over Broome and the other two candidates was 18.

R. C. Bigbee, defeated Republican candidate at the 1911 municipal election again won the nomination, defeating John M. Ankele, ex-mayor, and Harvey J. Alexander. Perks was never a dangerous opponent.

The victory of Swartz and Bigbee was gained in a primary election in which not more than one-third of after learning that the names of candidates did not appear on the ticket.

Another feature of the primary which proved to be a surprise to many was the fact that hundreds of Republicans lost their right to take part in their party's primary when they scratched their ticket last fall and voted for Wilson and Cox. In all probability there were hundreds of Republicans of this class who voted without mentioning the fact that they had supported the Democratic ticket a year ago. These rose by all right but when the others confessed to the fact that they voted for a Democratic president and governor, they were compelled to accept a Democratic ticket.

Despite the fact that there was much more red tape heaped upon the precinct officials by new laws recently enacted, the count was made quickly.

All ballots must now be saved and at the primary election, the party ballots must be made up separately and returned to the deputy state supervisors of elections bound and sealed. They will be retained thirty days and if no contest arises, the ballots must be destroyed.

Each precinct was provided with a needle, several lengths of fine wire, seals, a stick of sealing wax and a metal seal to make the impression on the wax. After the ballots were counted, those of each party were sewed together between two squares of card board, the wire wrapped around them, and each package was enclosed in a special wrapper provided for the purpose, sealed with the paper and wax seals and sent to the office of the board.

The successful candidates who went the trial heat yesterday are being rubbed down by their trainers and will soon be off on the final heat which will end on Tuesday, November 4, at the regular municipal election.

The vote for land appraisers stood as follows: Redman, 665; Fleming, 547; Shamp, 4; Fromholtz, 3; Brubaker, 2; and Weisgerber, 2. Two-

The only other contest of interest was that for positions on the ticket for councilmen at large on the Democratic ticket. There were five candidates for this office, three to be nominated. The candidates were Messrs. Juch, Rogers, Stasel, Stare and Stanton. The first three were nominated, Rogers leading L. A. Stare by 7 votes.

The result was known early in the evening. The very small vote cast enabled the precinct judges and clerks to get the count finished early.

The first precinct reported about 6:30 o'clock and then the others came in rapidly up to 9 o'clock when the last precinct reported. A few minutes later the final figures were placed in the Advocate window and the immense crowd which had remained throughout the evening faded away like dew before the morning sun.

As usual, the Advocate's bulletin service was as near perfect as it is possible to make it. The returns were received promptly and were as promptly made public by posting the figures in the window. The bulletins were distinctly written and could be read from the middle of the street, a feature which was appreciated by the crowd as was evidenced by the number which crowded about the front of this office.

When the first returns were received Mayor Swartz took a lead and maintained it until six precincts had been heard from when Mr. Broome took the lead and held it until ten precincts had been counted. Mayor Swartz gained steadily from then on and was never overtaken.

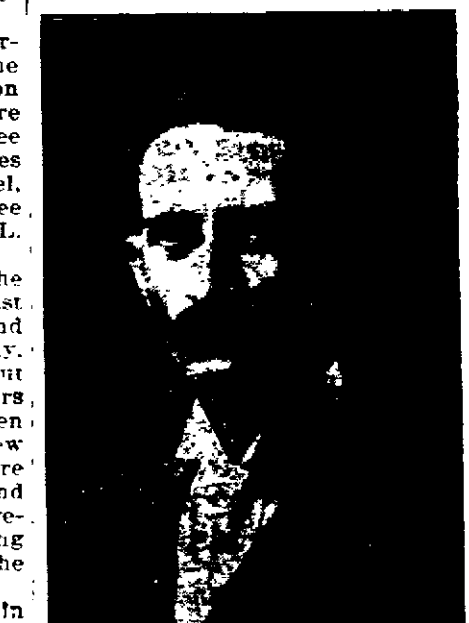

Though each precinct in the city was provided with ballots for the Bull Moose and non-partisan ballots for school board, there were few tickets used in any voting booth. There were many precincts where the pads of tickets were undisturbed.

The fact that there were no nominations for any offices on the Progressive ticket or on the school board was responsible for this fact. Most of the voters who reached the polls felt that they had done their duty when they cast their ballot for candidates named, without bothering their heads about nominating any not suggested for offices. In many precincts, Bull Moose left the polls, refusing to accept ballots

Conan Doyle Serial.

The most sensationally attractive story that Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ever wrote, "The Poison Belt," by name, will appear exclusively in the Pittsburgh Sunday Dispatch. Better than Sherlock Holmes, for whom the titled author will ever be famous, has this newest story from his well known pen been called by competent critics on both sides of the Atlantic. Its appearance in the Sunday Dispatch will be the first chance absolutely the public will have to read the romance. It is not yet out in book form. The first installment, a huge one, will appear on Sunday, September 1, and will be followed by whole pages of the work each Sunday thereafter. "The Poison Belt" cost the Sunday Dispatch a small fortune, and every reader will endorse the liberal policy which brings the best in fiction into the home each Sunday at trifling cost. Be sure to read it and to avoid disappointment, leave your order with the newsdealer now for the Sunday Dispatch. (Advertisement.)

SMALL SALARIES FOR LICENSE MEN OVER THE STATE

Licking Members Will Get $840 per Year While Franklin Members Just Across the Line Receive $4,800.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)
Columbus, O., Sept. 3.—General calls of protest are expected to arise from the liquor license commissioners of the small western counties when they learn that the jobs for which they fought like Trojans, and which they expected would pay the handsome salary of any place from $2,000 to $4,000, will yield but an annual stipend of $240 a year. In five counties this is what each commissioner will receive.

How these appointees in the little counties will envy their brethren in such counties as Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Franklin and Lucas. In the two former the salaries have been fixed by the state commission at $5,000, the same as drawn by the state commissioners, and in the two latter at $4,800 each. The scale grades, according to population and conditions, from $240 in Hocking to the limit in Cuyahoga and Hamilton.

Of course, the appointees in the small counties will not have to devote all their time to the work. It is said that some probably spent an amount equal to their year's salary in coming to Columbus to promote their chances. The state commission predicted yesterday that none, however, who has been appointed will resign.

In fixing the scale of salaries, the state commission announced that it was aware that some of the salaries were exceedingly low, but that it is confident that it has secured commissioners who will do the work equally as well as though they were receiving a fat salary. By holding the salaries down, the commission will save the state $33,000 of the amount appropriated by the legislature to pay salaries.

The total amount appropriated by the legislature to put into effect the license law was $165,000, but the commission purposes to save at least $50,000 of this amount through strict economy. The total amount for salaries is $106,880.

The salaries of county commissioners follow:
Hocking, $240; Wadsworth, $240; Putnam, $240; Defiance, $240; Pickaway, $240; Mercer, $300; Coshocton, $360; Shelby, $360; Darke, $360; Henry, $420; Lawrence, $420; Ottawa, $420; Fairfield, $420; Huron, $480; Sandusky, $480; Athens, $480; Angazie, $480; Washington, $480; Ross, $540; Perry, $540; Crawford, $600; Marion, $660; Seneca, $720; Richland, $840; Scioto, $840; Tuscarawas, $840; Licking, $840; Erie, $900; Muskingum, $900; Allen, $1080; Jefferson, $1200; Columbiana, $1320; Clark, $1440; Lorain, $1560; Butler, $1620; Mahoning, $2400; Summit, $2400.

Stark, $2400; Montgomery, $3600; Lucas, $4800; Franklin, $4800; Hamilton, $5,000; Cuyahoga, $5,000. The state board in announcing the salaries of the county boards, gave out a statement, part of which follows:

"The salary of the members of the several county liquor licensing boards of this state has been fixed surprisingly low, but we believe sufficient to procure for each county the services of high-class men. Every attempt will be made by the state board to discharge and to have discharged in the fullest all the duties imposed by law on the department. At the same time the most rigid economy will be observed in the conduct of the department."

"The system adopted will not cost the people of the state of Ohio a single penny; on the contrary, it will not only be self-sustaining, but will prove a good revenue producer to the state. Through the foresight of Governor Cox, who has given so many evidences of always saving the welfare of the people in mind, it is certain that the revenues of the department will exceed $300,000."

The inspection department that was formerly under the supervision of the state dairy and food commission has been transferred to this department and the work will be carried on by this department. We shall not ask for the transfer of the fund of $200,000 which was appropriated to the state dairy and food department for the carrying on of the inspection work, but the same will be saved to the state.

The total salaries of the county boards fixed by the state board for the first year is $106,880. The amount appropriated by the legislature for this purpose is $165,000. We are thus saving the state $58,120 on this item alone."

Additional appointments were announced by the board yesterday as follows:
Summit—Albert T. Paige, Democrat; George C. Conner, Progressive.
Montgomery—Charles Ely, Democrat; Joseph C. Brown, Republican.
Mercer—Frank W. Short, Democrat; Robert L. Mattingly, Republican.
Darke—Richard A. Richter, Democrat; G. E. Morganstar, Progressive.
In Perry and Sandusky counties a switch was made at the last minute.

from the announcements made several days ago for the minority membership. James McDonald, a Progressive, gets the job in Perry county over David Medley, as first announced. In Sandusky county Charles Wagner, a Republican, gets the position over B. A. Fouché, Progressive, as first announced.

Erie county is the only one in which no selection has been made. This probably will be done today.

County commissioners will come to Columbus Thursday, where they will be addressed at the state house by Governor Cox, Attorney General Hogan and members of the state commission, concerning the granting of licenses and the enforcement of law.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears. After another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

BEECH WOODS.

The annual Linville reunion was held Thursday at the old Joseph Linville homestead. Over one hundred and twenty people were present. Short addresses, songs from the Siniff Glee club and a big basket dinner were the order of the day. A very pleasant day was experienced by all. Berry of Lancaster.

John Bunny, star comedian of the "movies" has become a king, and this is the smile he wore when he learned it. It is the smile which has made hundreds of thousands laugh in the moving picture shows, and the fair young woman with the smile is to be a queen.

Not, of course, a real queen nor a real king—but the King and Queen of Mirth, and they will reign at Coney Island during Mardi Gras week, the closing of the most popular ocean side resort in the United States. John Bunny's smile had as much as anything else to do with his election. In fact, it is probable that without his smile he would not have been thought of for the place. Just as soon as he found he was the victor he announced he had chosen Miss Lillian Walker as his queen. She is of the "movies," too, and she has a winning smile.

TAFT ADDRESSES
AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Montreal, Sept. 3.—Ex-President William H. Taft was elected president of the American Bar Association this afternoon at the close of the annual meeting.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Montreal, Sept. 3.—This, the last day of the American Bar Association's annual meeting was devoted to a discussion of means to simplify legal procedure and election of officers. Ex-President Taft was the chief speaker this afternoon at a joint session of the section of legal education and the association of American law schools.

Papers were read at the Bar Association symposium by William C. Hook of Kansas, judge of the Federal Circuit court of Appeals; Judge N. Chas. Burke of the Maryland court of appeals and William A. Blount of Pennsylvania, Fla.

Judge Hook urged brevity and simplicity and said:

"It is a common remark that the ablest lawyers draft the most concise pleadings, submit the briefest briefs and make the shortest arguments."

Judge Burke's subject was "Legal Procedure and Social Unrest." The struggle between capital and labor, he urged, was responsible for new conditions calling for new laws to govern them. "But no matter what statutes are to be enacted with respect to legal procedure, if counsel are not diligent in the preparation of the case for trial, or if one side or the other insists upon delay it is difficult for the judge to do much."

Mr. Blount declared that the task of remodeling pleading and practice devolved upon the progressive conservatives of the profession.

"The goal," he said, "is justice, and this, in large part, inexpensively obtained."

FIGHTING BLAZE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Sept. 3.—Thomas Yates, 50 years old, a cook, was burned to death and 48 firemen and one spectator were overcome by smoke or injured in a fire which destroyed the Central hotel at 440 South State street and an adjoining building. The fire started shortly after 11 o'clock Tuesday morning and burned until 5 o'clock this morning, 18 hours before the fire department succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The body of Yates was not found until after the flames had been put out. It is estimated that a crowd of 100,000 spectators watched the firemen work in the period the fire burned. The fire started in the basement of the hotel and quickly spread to an adjoining basement and although the structures were flooded with water, the firemen were unable to extinguish the blaze. The fire caused a property loss of only $63,000.

American Bottle Company
Will Provide Equipment
For Public Playground

Through activities of the Newark Federation of Women's Clubs, the American Bottle company, of which Edward H. Everett is president, has announced that it will furnish and install complete equipment for a public playground at Riverside school. A communication from H. G. Phillips, one of the Chicago officers of the company, to officers of the federation, says most of the equipment is being ordered. It will be installed on the grounds within a few weeks.

The gift, which will represent several hundred dollars, is all the more pleasing as a reward for efforts of the federation in view of the short campaign. It comes as an early realization of one of the chief desires of the educational committee of the federation. It is the outcome of something like six weeks of social settlement campaigning in the Riverside district, which developed into an active movement to equip the playground.

With White field in the West Side and the Heisey playground in the East Side, members of the federation felt that a place where the little folks of the Riverside neighborhood could romp after school hours was a very necessary feature to the social uplift and educational work undertaken.

Under agreement with the American Bottle company, the playground will be furnished in its entirety, on condition that the board of education of Newark provides supervision. This was agreed to at a recent meeting of the board, when a communication was received from the Federation of Women's Clubs, indicating that the organization might undertake to equip the ground. The board of education only stipulated that equipment to the amount of at least $500 be provided. It is said the apparatus will exceed this figure.

Only recently members of the federation made known their needs to Mr. Everett when they met him at the Country Club. He at once took an interest in the project after learning what the club women had undertaken, and he summoned Mr. Phillips to whom the project was again explained.

At that time Mr. Everett personally presented a very handsome check to be used in aiding the movement, and has since made another acceptable donation, besides giving his influence in behalf of the plan to fully equip the grounds, adding unsparingly to the numerous benefactors.

Earl, whose occupation is said to be a librarian, presented a check at the Park National bank here between July 7 and July 10. He secured the endorsement of R. W. Irwin and the amount named in the check, $41.50, was paid. The check reached the Corn Exchange National Bank, on which it was drawn, where it was returned marked "funds."

THE FORWARD-LOOKING WOMAN versus
THE FIRESIDE WOMAN
By Barbara Boyd

Man's Broader Outlook

IT'S pleasant, isn't it," said the Forward-looking Woman cheerily, "to see how men are progressing?"

"Are they?" asked the Fireside Woman. "I didn't know they could progress."

"Goodness!" laughed the Forward-looking Woman. "You didn't think them perfect, did you, that they had reached the end of the road, and that for them there was nothing to do but to stand still? If they ever came to that pass, I should be sorry for them."

"I guess really I haven't thought much about it," admitted the Fireside Woman. "They have always suited me, just as they are. So I have never noticed whether they were progressing, or standing still, or merely marking time."

"Some of them are only marking time," said the Forward-looking Woman. "But others of them are progressing; and if there is a forward movement, no matter how slight, it will eventually get the whole body in motion. Besides, they'll have to progress. For women are; and if the men don't, they'll be left so far behind, women won't waste time even to cast them a backward glance."

"I don't know about that," laughed the Fireside Woman. "I have an idea that if the men are in the rear, there will be some stragglers from the ranks of the women dropping out by the wayside."

"If they did, they would all be back in the dust together and there wouldn't be much fun in that. No, when the men discover they are being left in the rear, they'll get a hustle on and catch up. But I don't imagine they want to be left in the rear,—the nicest of them anyway; and that is the reason they are progressing already. For instance, the time was when a good many men thought all that a woman was made for was to be perpetually looking after the comfort of men or the welfare of children. But nowadays, the men who think have long got by that idea. Women do minister to the comfort of men and look after children, it is true. But it is no longer the one-sided proposition it used to be. Thinking men are perfectly willing that women minister no more to them, than they do to women. The care of the children is equally shared, and woman has as much time and opportunity left to live her individual life and to develop her abilities as has man. No man nowadays, unless he is extremely narrow-minded or away behind the times, thinks that a woman's only work is to minister to him and his children, and that this comprises her whole duty. He recognizes the fact that she has a right to a larger life than this, and he is glad to help her to it. And I think, so broad-minded has he become that he would do this, even though in the end it did not reflect to his greater happiness. But it does. For the development of woman means better homes, better children, physically, mentally and spiritually, and a higher standard of living for all. So that the man who helps woman forward is really benefiting himself. But as I said, I do not think he is doing it from any such selfish motive. I think he is doing it because he has become bigger and finer himself, and because he wants woman to have all that life holds for her."

COMMISSIONERS OPEN QUARTERS IN TRUST BLDG.

Will Be Ready to Give Out Blank Applications Friday to Those Desiring to Apply for License.

Prof. O. C. Larson and Dr. J. N. Wright, the Licking county liquor license commissioners, have received their commissions.

They have rented rooms in the Trust building No. 606, and are getting the rooms furnished and equipped for work. They have received notice from the state board to attend the general meeting of the county commissioners of the state at Columbus on Thursday, Sept. 4, at 9 o'clock a. m. in the chamber of the house of representatives. Gov. Cox and Attorney General Hogan will address the meeting and give the commissioners instructions pertaining to their work.

Dr. Wright, getting the short term of two years, will, according to law, be president of the local board and Prof. Larson, receiving the long term of four years, will, by virtue of the law, be clerk of the board.

The state board will decide whether or not the local board will be entitled to a secretary and salary if there be one.

The commissioners believe they will be ready to give out blanks Friday to those desiring licenses.

An Advocate representative interviewed the local commissioners regarding the salary allowed them by the state board and both members thought it inadequate for the amount of work which will have to be performed. However, they will abide by the decision, but believe that the state board will revise the salary list, especially in those counties where the compensation is hardly commensurate for the tasks which confront them.

The monthly meeting of the division leaders met on Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. There were not many leaders present, but the following matters of business were considered and recommended to the members of the neighborhood prayer meetings. It was decided to have a rally meeting in October to celebrate the anniversary of the tabernacle meetings at which time the favorite songs will be rendered, testimonies given by the converts, and reports from the divisions. This meeting will be a great gathering and it is hoped it will be an inspiration to the fall work.

"Gentlemen: In the year 1908 I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty cough and went to several doctors, including a specialist. Their medicines failed, and they went to the Catskills. But the cough still kept up. I stayed there a year and then went on a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man.

"My mother, then, recommended Eckman's Alternative to me very highly. At first I would not consent to use it, owing to the fact that I had taken so many medicines without being helped in any way, but finally I consented. It is now nearly two years since I first took it. I am now cured and I dare say that I would not have been cured had it not been for Eckman's Alternative. I wish to thank you for the goodness to me. Wherever I go I highly recommend Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. ## M'ANDREWS CASE IS POSTPONED TO THURSDAY

After attorneys and important witnesses had waited for nearly two hours Wednesday morning in the court of Magistrate G. W. Horton, the case of Ohio vs. Dr. C. F. Legge, charged with performing a criminal operation on Helen McAndrews, which caused her death, was continued to Thursday morning at 8 o'clock.

It was explained by Attorney R. O. Martin, retained as counsel for the dead girl's mother, who is prosecuting witness in the case, that Prosecutor J. Howard Jones was out of town and that the prosecution did not care to proceed with the case at the time in his absence.

Dr. Legge was present in court with his counsel, H. C. Ashcraft and J. R. Fitzgibbon.

A report had been circulated that the hearing would be in private. This was an error, because the law provides for public hearings. Magistrate Horton expressed disapproval of the circulation of such a report.

HOUSE TO ACCEPT TARIFF CHANGES OF THE SENATE

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—As the tariff bill has progressed it seems almost certain that there will be few changes made in conference. It is expected that the house will accept most of the senate changes. One reason given for this is that after the bill passed the house the Democrats of the finance committee had it about two months, during which time nearly all discrepancies and inequalities were pointed out. Time was given those interested in the different schedules to examine them and tell the men who were working on the bill on the senate side what changes ought to be made.

Another reason for leaving the bill as it passes the senate is because there is such a narrow majority in that body that it may be risky to attempt changes after it once passes. It has not been an easy task to frame a bill and hold a majority for it in the face of two defections from the party.

The Trouble in Mexico.

A man well versed in foreign affairs, and particularly with Latin America, remarked in discussing Mexico, "The trouble in regard to our relations with Mexico is that no one seems to have been employed who knew how to bring about results in a diplomatic way, no one who knew how to do things without menace or force, no one who seemed to understand the people and use the tact necessary when a strong nation deals with a weaker one whose people are extremely sensitive."

He said that applied to the last as well as the present administration and that no question of politics was involved.

All Had a Chance.

Every Democratic member of the finance committee had charge of one or more schedules in the tariff bill and assumed the responsibility for conducting it through the senate for a time. Chairman Simmons was on hand most of the time and took a hand frequently, and he also had entire charge of some of the schedules. The routine of consideration was for Simmons to move the consideration of the bill at the earliest possible moment and turn it over to the senator having charge of the schedule. When 6 o'clock came it was generally a Republican senator who suggested it was time to stop. If there was an executive session Senator Bacon of Georgia, chairman of the foreign relations committee, would make the motion. If it was just an adjournment the motion was made by Senator Kern of Indiana, who is the Democratic leader.

Clayton Deliberate.

If perchance Henry D. Clayton of Alabama should be seated in the senate the "greatest deliberative body on earth" will be augmented by the greatest deliberative debater in the house. Senator Cummins of Iowa, when he first began his career in the senate, was extremely deliberate in his speech, but he has gained speed lately. Clayton is so deliberate that real fast long hand reporters could almost take down his words.

Root's Additional Letters.

Senator Root returned from Europe, where two universities conferred degrees upon him. Greeted by one of his friends and congratulated, the friend remarked, "I see you have a lot more letters after your name."

"Yes," replied the senator slowly. "I have quite a number of additional letters. I don't know quite what they mean yet, but they are there."

Crisp's Opinion.

Congressman Crisp, son of the former speaker, was about beginning a speech on a contested election case in which a Republican and bull moose only were involved. "In the language of a former New York statesman," he said, "I am a Democrat, and so I approach this contest between a stand pat Republican and Progressive without bias in favor of either. From my school of political economy I think the country would be better off if they could kill off each other."

However, he pronounced judgment in favor of the bull moose man, who was seated without any particular opposition.

"Dan Mack" of Maine.

Congressman McGillicuddy of Maine seems to have been quite a stirring genius in politics in the Pine Tree State before he came to congress. He was known as "Dan Mack" and was considered a foe of mottle by his opponents. By opposing Littlefield he gets mentioned quite frequently in the lobby hearings for it appears that Mulhall and his employers were eagerly trying to elect Littlefield during the most strenuous campaign in which that statesman was engaged.

"Dan Mack" has been a very interested spectator at the hearings and has picked up some information as to the manner in which his opponents worked to cause his defeat.
